BECAUSE MAN IS COMPLEX, CONCLUSIONS ARE COMPLEX
THE STUDENTS OF FHS ARE PEOPLE,

WE CAN BETTER UNDERSTAND WHAT WE AS INDIVIDUALS ARE.

ADMINISTRATION

JOHN D. McGREGOR — Principal

It is quite obvious upon entering F.H.S. that the students are in capable, understanding hands. Any student will be happy to tell you so. Our administration is unique in that no other school can claim to have as capable a principal as ours. Mr. McGregor and his assistant principals, Mr. Meister and Mr. Wagner do so much work behind the scenes that we owe them a tremendous thank you. Aside from the everyday routine of interviews, and conferences, these men helped individual students with personal problems. Without these men F.H.S. would be lost. So to them we give a salute and thanks.

FRED WAGNER — Asst. Principal

TED MEISTER — Asst. Principal

Mr. James Lynch

It is a counselor's job to guide the students through their high school years, to lead them on the path to maturity, and to show them the way to success in later years. These duties have been carried out very well by our staff of counselors.

Every morning students are lined up ten and twelve deep waiting for excuses as the counselors are furiously working to get everyone to class on time. All through the day students come filing into the offices with phony-sounding excuses as to why they weren't in class or why they were late. But the counselors are always human, giving the students the benefit of the doubt until they take advantage of the situation. Then the counselors revert to form and their stock answer: "Five zero hours!"

We're all grateful for this guidance from our counselors which made our high school years more beneficial and helped us with our plans for later life. Even though other students fill up our time and thoughts, we will never forget our counselors.

The next time you walk through a window, think a moment about who the gentleman is who comes swiftly to your aid. He is what is known as a custodian. These guys deserve a lot of credit. They come early and late, they put up with slopped up lunches, griping greasies and snotty P.R.a. Many of them work at night, so we students don't get a chance to know them. Nevertheless, we still know they're there by the immaculate condition of the school in the morning. Even though it seems empty without Charlie, we still recognize the great service they perform.

Along with the custodians we must express our appreciation to the kitchen staff who put up with griping kids all day long. They spend many hours preparing the food which is so elegantly (1) served at noon. We are fortunate to have such a staff, and are ever grateful.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, Ferndale High School's largest and most effective student governing body, has accomplished more this year than any other council in the past due to the hard work of its many fine members and capable leaders. These people have devoted long hours to the planning and completion of many projects such as Freshmen orientation, Homecoming festivities, pep rallies, bonfire and car caravan, tap day, and busses to away games. The Council also sponsored Know Your School Night, P.T.S.A. club night, and the Eagle Eye Review, and has helped with many other school projects. Christmas decorations, carnations and cards for the teachers and loaning money to school organizations who need it are also projects of this year's Council. New projects include a successful club coordination plan, Student Government Day and "big brother and big sister" for all new students.

The Ferndale High School Student Council would like to thank their unsurpassable advisor and friend Mr. Bill Coyne for helping and guiding them through many difficult times. Many of the projects could not have been done without this wonderful man's help. The Council would like to wish all future Student Councils the best of luck.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Ferndale chapter of the National Honor Society is one of the largest and most active in the Detroit area. Each year the members collect for the March of Dimes and help plan and put on Career Day. This year the club participated in publicizing and selling tickets for a Saturday night of skiing at Mount Hody.

Seniors are admitted into NHS with a grade point average of 3.3 or better and must fulfill requirements of citizenship and service besides. Graduating seniors are honored at the Rotary Honors Convocation and wear an honor cord at graduation if they have maintained all the requirements and attended meetings faithfully. This year's officers were Carl Ameriks, president; Dennis White, vice president; Lynn Cannici, secretary; and Sally Moon, treasurer. Mrs. Dorothy Barit and Mrs. Beatta Jorgenson are the sponsors.

If some untimid soul were to approach you and ask a ridiculous question like, What would you be if you could be reincarnated? you would know immediately that this person was from the Eagle staff. The staff works long and hard seeking answers to their never-ending questions. Many areas are involved in a newspaper of this kind, from the copy to the editing, and the staff deserves a vote of recognition for the duty they perform in F.H.S.

"Do you realize that you're an hour and a half late? Where were you?"

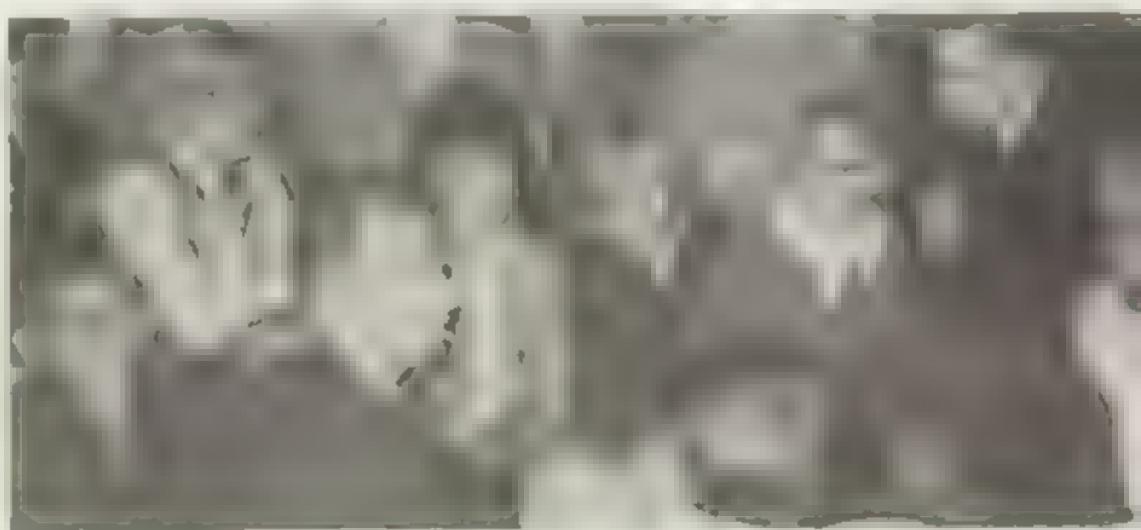

"Well...er...you see, Mr. Kysia, we thought we'd walk up Park Avenue instead of Third, and it turns out that the addresses are different. We walked fifty-one blocks out of our way!"

Believe it or not, that is true, and it happened when the United Nations Club was in New York in November. But that is only half the story. The week was an educational experience beyond compare.

Other annual activities of the United Nations Club include an International Show, two Model United Nations Assemblies, selling at football games, and a candy sale. Extra features of this year's group were the bringing to Ferndale of a Malaysian diplomat and helping Royal Oak Kimball form a United Nations Club of its own.

Everything that the UN Club is, has been, or will be is owed to Mr. Sleiman Kysia, the club's advisor. This little whirlwind from Lebanon is almost entirely responsible for all the success which the organization has attained.

This year's officers were President Karl Blasius, Vice President Ken Mogill, Recording Secretary Margie Reynolds, Corresponding Secretary Claudia Harris, and Treasurer Marsha Pearsall.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Otto Brown, the choir this year has reached success again as in past years. Again they are applauded for fine work in the Christmas concert, performing the "Messiah" as well as folk songs. A concert was given for the Junior High and the choir will attend the choir festival in the spring this year. Good luck, members, and here's to your success and a "one" rating.

Madrigals is made up of a selected group of sixteen voices from Choir A. It was organized by Mr. Otto Brown and this year was under the capable direction of Roger Taylor. The members rehearse without a faculty member and on their own time. Weeks of work and hours of practice make Madrigals the highlight of the Christmas and spring concerts.

ORCHESTRA

Our orchestra at Fern-dale plays an important role in the music field. Their activities include playing in the Christmas concert, playing in the All-City music festival, and playing for the graduation exercises. Under the direction of Mr. Sanford, the orchestra is always working hard, to perfect what they know and to increase their knowledge.

FERNDALE HIGH SCHOOL

This year's band, under the direction of Mr. Cannon and led by drum major Chuck Colley, began their field training up at Interlochen at the end of August. The rest of the training time came in the mornings, before school and during first hour. The training all paid off, resulting in one of the top bands in the state. The band has many events during the year, which is divided into two "seasons."

The marching season takes place first. It begins with the first home game's half time program. Here the precision group puts on the show, using their new formations that they have been practicing in all weather.

Between seasons, the 108 piece band has a candy sale, and a tag sale. The purpose of the candy sale is to raise money to sponsor next year's trip to Interlochen. The tag sale is to raise money for the band boosters, who will be helping to sponsor the solo ensemble, which will be held at Ferndale this year.

The concert season's activity includes Bandtasia, Solo Ensemble, All-City Band Concert, Spring Music Festival, and the State Music Festival.

The coming of spring brings the Memorial Day Parade, which is the band's last activity of the year, and closes the season for the Golden Eagle Band.

"We want our chicken wire back"
"Let's go and spy on the band float."
These and other like comments become a source of amusement to us now as we look back on those tedious days before the big weekend. The rented trailer ... the stolen chicken wire ... the cheating seniors ... the griping juniors ... the sly sophomores ... and the procrastinating freshmen. When at last our mammoth projects were finished we took them to school for the final reckoning. In spite of many raised eyebrows, the seniors came in first with their theme of A Shot in the Dark closely followed by the Investment Club with the theme of Savonara. In third place was a tie between the juniors and the band with themes of Some Like It Hot and The Unsinkable Brown and White.

The half time festivities ended with the crowning of the Queen, Sandy Mortar. On her court this year were Kathy Wilson, Lynn Braswell, and Janet Stusso. Congratulations Sandy.

The U.N. Club and the Student Council this year tried a new idea. It was a tremendous success. The Homecoming dance, October 10 semi-formal, displayed a mood of soft music and a relaxed atmosphere. It was a lovely ending to a perfect weekend.

"Pay up or else?"

'Way down yonder not so very far away
All of them kin folk got together one day
They curtse and bow and they're actin so nice,
Ireatin' them gals like sugar and spice

Marrying Sam with his wed-locking Bible
Leadin' them kin folk right down the aisle
In honeymoon lane they croon and they coo,
At least for a night 'till their mooning is through

When the night's finally over, when the gals is all broke,
When their grubbes is brubbier, the kin folk can joke,
"Remember the license, the fake preacher's price?"
For two bits he'll dance, for one just suffice!"

Almost everyone enjoyed the girls' party.

A happy eve

With the help of the Student Council and the PTSA, this year's Eagle Eye Review, Shundig '60, was the finest in years. The wide range of talent, from the Mod Bods to the folk singing of Jane Roman, packed the auditorium to capacity, keeping up with the tradition set at Ferndale.

The long hours of practice for the performers and work for the set designers paid off Thursday and Friday nights, when the show was a tremendous success. Congratulations on another fine job!

BY HEX

"By Hex"—this year's musical was a tremendous success. Barb Kibley, Charlotte Tabor, Rod Taylor, Jim Powell, brought down the house along with the rest of the cast. After many long hard hours of work, the stage crew, the cast, the directors and the student body each contributed to the success. The music department as well as the drama department of F.H.S. worked together to make "By Hex" a tremendous success.

"We are the Eagles, mighty, mighty, mighty Eagles . . ." chants our stupendous effervescent cheering crowds

Every basketball or football game is packed to the seams. Our victory minded cheerers are bound and determined to lead us on to every SMA championship available

Torn up newspaper, IBM punched circles, streamers, horns, and bells build the noise of our crowds up to a fever pitch. When we pull the game our way, chaos lets loose.

As our year comes to a close, school spirit doesn't cease. It will always remain in the hearts of those who attended good old F.H.S.

THE ROAD TO VICTORY

WAS BUILT. . .

A football team is a bunch of guys goofing around after practice. It's when one of them gets thrown into the shower, but laughs it off. It's the pandemonium on the bus after the Seholm game and the silence of the long trip home from Kimball. It's the feeling of satisfaction the whole squad gets after a successful Super to Vestrand pass and the joy of watching Ashmore, Hill, Baumann, and David all creaming Berkley's quarterback. It's that 'bleueh' feeling everyone gets when they practice in the mud and the feeling of pride you get when you put out just a little bit harder in practice.

These are some of the physical descriptions of a football team, but seniors usually get philosophical. To them the distinguishing feature of a football team would be the intangible cohesion which grows out of mutual work. It's the creating of a macrocosm from many microcosms. It's a unity born out of diversity. It's the creating of one from many; sort of a pluribus unum.

BACKSTAGE WITH THE EAGLES

Six o'clock Friday night is the time. What are you, the student of Ferndale High School, doing? Planning transportation to the game? Trying to get a date? Have you ever wondered what your football team is doing at that time?

They have but one thing on their minds — the coming game. As the boys wander into the locker room, you can read the tension on their faces. Super usually sits in front of his locker in deep concentration. Ashmore prefers the dark shower room for his "meditation." Congregating around the training room are several ball players waiting to be taped. Mr. Joranko talks to the various boys about their assignments, and small talk is exchanged among teammates. Nervous laughter breaks the periods of silence. Slowly the boys are getting dressed. Time: 7:15.

All noise has stopped and the atmosphere is intense. Then David comes running into the locker room—15 minutes late, as usual. Vestrand makes a few appropriate derogatory remarks and the whole team loosens up a bit.

By now we can hear the stirring sound of a drum cadence from the band. Excitement swells our bodies as we sit in the corridor. Coaches Joranko and Burkhart come into the corridor and a hush comes over the team. They tell Crook, Groner, and Luxton to run hard and fight for every yard. They encourage Hill, Facione, and Aksamit to block and open the holes for the backs.

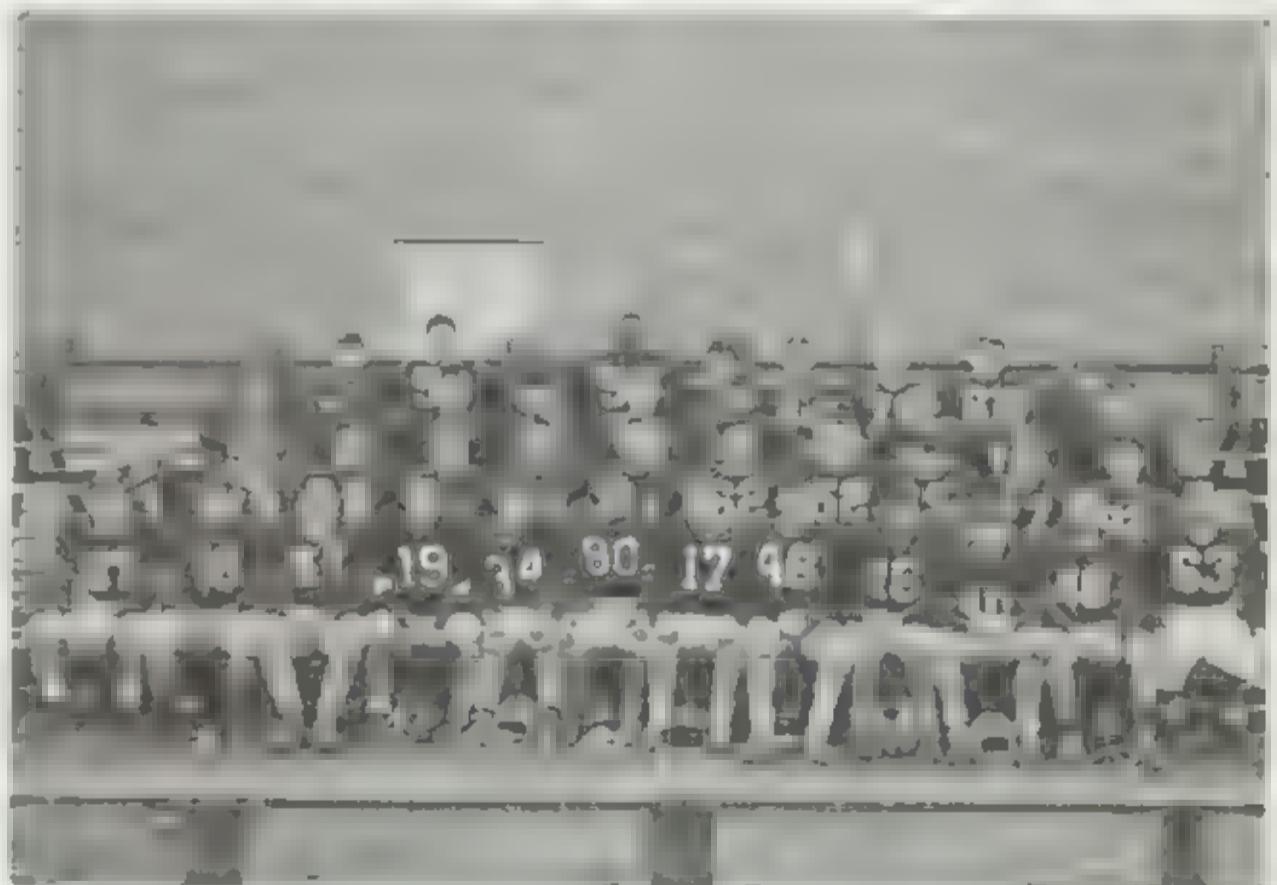

We then unite in a silent prayer. You can almost hear the nervous heartbeats of the boys. The words, "Let's go!" come from Coach Joranko and the team storms out of the school with one thing in mind — victory!

FOOTBALL

The crowning of the champs, the football banquet, was the last time that the 1964 Ferndale Eagles were assembled. Unlike other crowning, this one marked an ending, not a beginning. It was the final triumph, the occasion for acknowledging superior performances. The individual trophies went to Bob Super, Most Valuable Player; Larry Facione, Ed Walker Award; and Roger Bauman, Scholastic Athletic Award. The last duties of co-captains Super and Bruce Hill were to name Ken Luxton and Jack Clarkson as the captains of the 1965 squad.

There's something different about the basketball banquet from the football banquet. For the seniors, the football banquet is just a climax to that sport, but the basketball banquet is the finale. There is no other banquet to look forward to. This is it—the end.

This year's feast ended on a happy note, as the Eagles were presented with the Southeastern Michigan Association trophy which they had already earned. Guests included former Ferndale stars Bruce Rodwan and Larry Tregonning.

Individual awards went to Lee Palmer, Most Valuable Player; Roger McRipley, Scholarship Trophy; and Rick Bloodworth, Foul Shooting Trophy. Also names were next year's captains, Dwight "Sam" Dunlap and Rick Bloodworth.

BASKET BALL

FERNDALE HOOPS

ITS WAY. . .

Goldsmith snatches the ball. Quick pass to Bloodworth. He drives, flips it to Palmer open under the basket. In. Two points for Ferndale.

A basketball team is two keyed-up guards, two forwards who drive, lay it up and spin around for the rebound, and a center who's about 6'4" and fights for every rebound like his life depended on it. A team is all five boys working the zone press on defense and the weave when they want to stall on offense. It's that cruddy, musty odor that swallows you in the locker room and that single clap of the hands after a successful fast break.

More than that, it is a feeling of elation that five boys—and only they—share after beating Seaholm in triple overtime. It's the spirit of "Let's GO!" when Super dives into the third row going after a wild pass. And it's the deathly silence and the utter despair after blowing it to Kimball.

On the lighter side, it's discovering that you left Mogill at Southfield with the scorebook.

... TO S.M.A. TITLE

Another season, another title. It sounds sort of blasé, but that's Ferndale High. Last year our Eagles captured the final EML title and this season the initial SMA crown that makes three in a row!

Depth was the factor that did it. Most schools have trouble getting a solid first five, but Ferndale had seven. Seniors

Lee Palmer, Marty Goldsmith, Bob Super and Curtis McNeal and junior

Rick Bloodworth supplied the front line of attack. Working right in as the second echelon were juniors Sam Dunlap and Dave Jensen. Together they compiled a 14-3 record and a fifth rating in the state.

A good team is essential to win, but is ineffective without a great coach. Mr. Roy Burkhardt is responsible for Ferndale's being able to boast of winning or sharing league titles for 10 out of the last 15 years.

Fourth row: Buzz Threckeld, Chuck Colley, Pete O'Connell, Tom Payne, Byron Kuxhaus, Rickard Driggs, Mr. Bud Carl.

The cross country runner is a different person. Unlike other sportsmen, the cross country runner is alone when the gun goes off. There is no teamwork to speak of, for the runner is attempting to outdo even his own teammates. He's a true individual as he strides methodically over the two-mile course. For these reasons, this year's yearbook theme applies especially to the cross country people.

Although the Eagles didn't duplicate the success of the football team, Ferndale is looking forward to next year. Of seven varsity runners, there was only one Senior, Jeff Haslett. The team was paced by Junior co-captains Pete O'Connell and Tom Payne. Challenging them all year were Junior Greg Richardson and Sophomore Jay Learmonth.

SWIMMING

Led by senior tri-captains Dan Loncar, Dennis White, and Al David, this year's varsity swimming team is making quite a splash. Also headlining the season's surprising team were sophomore Larry Smith, and juniors Don Kiddle and Bruce Wellman.

"Wins were the telling marks of this squad," states captain Dan Loncar, "especially over Pontiac Northern." Coach Ed Weekwert's team has been steadily building over the last few years. More confident observers even believe that the Eagles will be challenging the supremacy of Seaholm and Kimball in the near future. In the Eagle tradition, that's only natural.

SHARKS

"I'm late for practice Miss Gass will be very disturbed."

Those became familiar words around the girls' swimming pool this year as the Shark Club started off the season with a bang. In spite of false starts, forgetting to bring cookies, and becoming weary of work-outs, the girls' swim team won all of their meets with the exception of Redford. Each girl enjoyed a fine season and, after the season was over, looked forward anxiously to a final progressive dinner with the whole team.

GYMNASTICS

Mr. Ed Sash, the sponsor of gymnastics has given the girls many hours of his time for the training and teaching of each individual. The recent has on back bends, flip-flops, and some tumbling. Marilyn Lowe, Kris Detert, Kathy Morton, and Linda Clemens are just a few of the regulars. The girls were inspired by the Swedish Academy last year, and are now working toward their standards.

UNDERCLASS

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

Every year, a mass gathering of freshmen, known as freshmen orientation, occurs. Here the naive "freshies" get a chance to learn the way to their classes, meet their teachers, and learn about the oncoming year that will become one of the most important in their lives at FHS.

FIRS's ratio of boys to girls is very favorable. For the boys.

This year's freshmen activities started with the building of their float, "Premature Burial." They continued with their freshmen mixer, a dance in which freshmen could get to know each other better, strengthen the relationship between the class and the faculty, and perhaps to strengthen the relations between themselves and upperclassmen.

The sophomores, the class of '67, got off to an enthusiastic start with their float, "The Untouchables." From there, they went to work on the traditional Sophomore sponsored Sadie Hawkins' dance. Promotion for this included tags saying "I'm taken." The final activity for this year was the class sponsored picnic. On the whole, they had a very successful year.

The prom and candy sale managed to keep the junior class busy this year. With a profit of over $2,000, they were well prepared to put on the prom. This year's theme, Hawaiian Sunset, was submitted by class Secretary Wendy Conn and Ricky Thomas. Dating, building floats, eating "turtles" or mixed candy, selling chocolates, studying and buzzing the Pole take up most of their time.

WHEN...

The seniors were a busy and successful class this year. Along with sending in college applications, making a last hopeful effort at good grades, dating, pulling the usual pranks along with a few new ones, going to football and basketball games, and generally feeling proud of themselves for being on the top of the heap at last, they managed to construct the winning float again for Homecoming, put on a fine Senior Ball, and, of course, graduate.

Every senior owes a debt of gratitude to our advisors Mr. Littig and Mr. Corsini, and to our officers, past and present: Bob Martensen, president for two years; Lynn Hanley, secretary for three years; Carl Roeser, treasurer for one year and vice president for one year; Nathan Tounsel, treasurer for two years; Robby Marsac, treasurer for one year and vice president for one year; Connie Derr, secretary for one year; Roby Warren president for one year; Bob Edwards, vice president for one year; Fran Patrello, vice president for one year; and Steve Langer, president for one year.

Teach Me How To Cry, this year's Senior Play, was concerned with the manner in which human beings shape the lives of one another. Mainly the story is about the shy, restrained, emotionally withdrawn teenage girl valiantly seeking self identity against almost overwhelming odds and the young boy seeking recognition as a human being, who is lonely, insecure and sensitive to rejection. Melinda and Will are drawn together out of mutual need and together they find their way toward personal dignity and a sense of belonging. The problems of the adults are also visited upon the children as well as upon themselves but they do not have the understanding, the strength to face reality.

The play takes place in late spring in a small American town.

ARUNA MANKEKAR INDIA

I had heard that Americans were warm and friendly people, and after coming here I saw that it was true. I was made to feel at home at once. When you are 10,000 miles away from home, you are bound to feel homesick, but surprisingly enough I have not been homesick once in all these months.

Maybe it is partly because I have the advantage of living with a perfectly wonderful and affectionate family. It is surprising how quickly you become a part of them and they become a part of you. I know I shall miss them when I go back.

Before I came, I knew there weren't any cowboys and Indians anymore, but I'd still expected to see one or two here and there. But so far I have not been fortunate enough to spot one. I also had the impression that a typical American was something like Troy Donahue—you know, blond hair and blue eyes. I also thought him to be tall, huge, with plenty of money, and not a care in the world. Now I know that is not so—to that extent.

One thing that I was very impressed with is that most Americans can take criticism. Criticism is the key to all democracies. No country can progress unless she is able to take criticism. I have found this quality especially among the teenagers, which I think is remarkable.

I know that this year will be the most glorious year of my life. I try to store up in my memory everything that is beautiful and sweet so that in my sadder moments I'll be able to withdraw from my store a memory or two and relive it and be happy again. I would like to extend my deep gratitude to both A.F.S. and my American family.

HELMUT THEIS

GERMANY

About a week before I entered the plane to the United States, a former communist lady said to me, "So you are going to the U.S. It is the same for you that Russia was for us." She paused and said, "... It is a promised land." This was the feeling that I had when I thought of a year at Ferndale. My expectations were very high and though I know the United States isn't perfect, I wasn't disappointed.

The first outstanding event I attended was a football scrimmage. Since that there was scarcely a weekend in which I didn't attend a game. Soon I yelled with the crowd and if somebody asked me, I'd tell them, "Ferndale has the best team, of course."

I joined some clubs and I saw the great enthusiasm with which the students are participating. I experienced the fairness practiced in the classes, and I enjoyed the system of dating. Last but not least, I made a lot of great friends (even those who called me a "Kraut").

This year is one unforgettable to me. It brought so much unique experience to me and it enriched my life. I want to thank all those who were good friends and who helped me to understand your country better and to take abroad a real good impression of FHS, Michigan, and the United States of America.

LIZZIE MURTINHO BRAZIL

One of the strongest impressions in my life was when I arrived in Ann Arbor with the other students from Brazil and Uruguay at seven o'clock in the morning and it began to snow. I couldn't say anything more than it's great, wonderful, and as you say, "It's cool!"

After that, everything came quickly—my family, the sports, skiing, skating, dating, parties, and Ferndale High. Ferndale with the students, the teachers, the lunch hour, the games and everything gave me a very happy stay in the United States. We have a word in Portuguese, "saudade," which means you are missing a thing you like very much. When I leave the States, I'm going with a "saudade." Saudades from my family, saudades from my sister and the pillow fights, saudades from my friends, saudades from Ferndale, and saudades from you.

MARIO TENZER URUGUAY

I saw snow for the first time the day I arrived here on January first. It was a beautiful sight and made a great impression on me. The first thing I did when I saw the snow was to make snowballs. I later learned to ice skate and ski, and went tobogganing. I had never seen shopping centers like Northland. It was big and beautiful and I was particularly impressed with the parking lots filled with so many cars.

I have had a lot of new experiences that are very nice. It is wonderful to have been given the chance to be an exchange student. I learned new customs of a different country and I have had a great number of experiences that I will never forget. I learned new ideas and I can now see things from another point of view. I am sure that all of these will help me later. I shall always remember Ferndale. Thank you all for welcoming me so warmly.

To Miss
Linda it's really fun knowing you.
been these past few years.
Always remember the senior year track & field and the senior pool, affair where I could really keep up with me?
You never write ya from college and let you I'll write you everything is going. Hope we know how friends, but if you keep up continue being I'll this summer.
bad behavior see you probably

Miss Kujala
Well 4 years have gone by and you are still living so it couldn't have been too bad. You have been an influence (I'm not sure what kind) on me and I probably won't forget you. Stay cool always and don't be too hard on me friend
Butch

Dear (L.) Kujala,
To a real cool
teacher whose given me a lot of breaks during the year. I'll always remember the times you took me up to Peppys. Remember you'll still have to come over someday
and try our sauna.
I think its just about
